„Role of psychotherapy in achieving health and well-being for children and adolescents,“
WELCOME

Dear participants of the Congress, distinguished guests,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the capital city of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Sarajevo, at the First International Congress of Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy with the topic: “Role of psychotherapy in achieving health and well-being for children and adolescents”.

Psychotherapy of developmental age, as a separate and independent discipline, takes and important place in Primary, Secondary and Tertiary Prevention in preservation of health and wellbeing of children and youth. Researches clearly show that childhood experiences are at the root of most of adult problems. Therefore, the aim of the Congress is to raise the awareness and to emphasize the importance of early detection of difficulties in children and specific interventions aimed to working with children, youth and their parents, as well as with the institutions, to prevent at the most possible extent development of psychological disorder in adults.

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child is the base for promotion of health and represents the framework of the work of the Congress.

Guided by our individual and social responsibility to create safer environment for preservation of the integrity of children, integrating multidisciplinarity and intersectoral cooperation, we wish the Congress enables a place for meeting of the experts in various areas who through exchange of experiences, presentation of the best practices, promotion of a new trends and scientific achievements strive to preserve health and wellbeing of children and youth.

Development of empathy through meeting and interaction could possibly make the world better place without wars and conflicts.

The child is not the past of the individual, but its present and future. We believe that it is important that the Congress send the message that by forming respectful relationships full of love we care about the child and that in this way we also care about the entire humanity.

We hope that the Congress will be the place of sincere meeting which will incitement relation of trust and love.
